

Using the E-Numerology Calculator

The E-Numerology calculator was developed by Mark Seaman and Ruth Watson for use in Ruth's Colorpuncture practice. Ruth is delighted to share it with the members of the Colorpuncture and the I Ching Facebook group. Control-click the calculator link to download the calculator. If your system is compatible with the calculator's coding, your browser will open the calculator and run it without an internet connection. Even if your system is not compatible with the calculator's coding, you will still be able to use the calculator at its on-line home.

The E-Numerology Calculator is designed to generate data for many therapies, but here we are just focusing on creating I Ching hexagrams. Please note that the date of birth must be entered European style: day, month, year.

Generating I Ching Hexagrams

The calculator generates hexagrams in accordance with two methods outlined by Norbert A. Eichler in his book Das Buch der Wirklichkeit. This book greatly influenced Peter Mandel's work with the I Ching.

To use the first method, enter the first and middle names in the field that says First Name. Enter the last name in the field that says Last Name. Use the exact name/s that appear on the person's birth certificate. Press calculate and go to the column below I Ching Name. The hexagram will be drawn from the bottom up in the following order: Consonants, Vowels, Total First Name, Consonants, Vowels, Total Last Name. If the generated number is odd, draw a solid line. If the number is even, draw a broken line. Then use the hexagram chart on p. 2 to find your hexagram number.

To use the second method, enter the day, month and year for which you wish to generate a hexagram. Go to the column below I Ching Birth Date and draw the hexagram from the bottom up, using Day, Month, Year, Odd Numbers, Even Numbers, and Total in that order. If the generated number is odd, draw a solid line, if the number is even, draw a broken line. Use the hexagram chart below to find your hexagram number.
